VOL. 74—No. 227 JACKSONVILLE, ILLINOIS, FRIDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 20, 1935 SIXTEEN PAGES—THREE CENTS

3,500,000 JOB GOAL WILL BE REACHED NOVEMBER FIRST

WILL CONTINUE FEDERAL DOLE HOPKINS SAYS

Over Two Million to Get Jobs In Next 42 Days

Washington, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Harry L. Hopkins predicted today the 3,500,000-job goal of the work-relief drive will be reached November 1, but simultaneously opened the door to continuation of the federal dole after that deadline.

The works progress administrator, a frequent visitor at recent Hyde Park conferences with President Roosevelt, told his press conference 931,703 persons already had been put to work leaving 2,458,297 to absorb in the next 42 days.

"Our schedule," Hopins emphasized, "provides for our putting these people to work. On the assumption that we will, we will end direct relief November 1."

But he added immediately that should the work quotas not be reached in some localities, WPA will "feel obligated" to make further direct relief provisions for these sections. Such a development was regarded by some observers as at least a partial abandonment of another deadline set in the $4,000,000,000 work drive—that the federal dole should end with October.

At the same press conference, Hopkins announced the issuance of an administration order to state executives of WPA vesting them with power to fix the hours of work under the program.

Asked if this measure was taken to assure workers the prevailing wage, which has been an issue of the American Federation of Labor, Hopkins said the order merely gave the state administrators the power to adjust hours to local conditions.

He said, however, that in some cases the effect of the order might make the security wage the equivalent of union wages if the hours brought low enough." But Hopkins insisted the question of union wages did not enter into the decision to lend additional authority to the state executives.

Secretary Ickes, at his press conference earlier in the day, said he would have ready for President Roosevelt upon his return to Washington next week a list of public works projects aggregating $200,000,000, to be brought within the revised works relief program.

He said a meeting of the allotment board may be called within a few days.

Hopkins mentioned New York City as a section certain to reach the 100 per cent quota for employment November 1.

The new order on fixing minimum work hours in localities—the maximum remains at eight daily and a 40-hour week—coincided closely with the visit of various executives of the building trades of the A. F. of L. They spent several hours today with Hopkins as did Hugh S. Johnson, New York City administrator.

Hopkins said well over $1,000,000,000 in projects already have been approved with five of six billions in applications pending.

The administrator said there had been "a substantial decline in the number of applications for relief."

Crisp Comment In World News By The Associated Press

By The Associated Press

Henry Ford, informing interviewers he was not interested in any "Ford for president" boom but more concerned in business conditions:

"I have the feeling business and wage trends will be up, and I do not believe the campaign of next year will have any appreciable effect on business, one way or the other. When people start to work their condition is bound to improve, and nothing but work will do it. Stop the dole and more work will begin."

David Lloyd George, Great Britain's world war prime minister,

"It seems to me the world is neading for a very great catastrophe. Quite frankly, I am alarmed. It will be as great a war of aggression as the attack of Germany upon Belgium."

Dr. S. M. Kintner, vice president of the Westinghouse company, forecasting crop control by electricity:

"The possibilities appear almost limitless. In addition to usual applications of power and light, much can be expected from control of insects that now infest grain and plants. Seeds now carrying these menaces will be freed and given better opportunity for their start in life."

C. Lloyd Fisher, attorney for Bruno Richard Hauptmann, denying reports Hauptmann had been offered commutation of his death sentence if he would name alleged associates in the Lindbergh kidnaping:

"No such offer was ever made me or any one else connected with the defense. We wouldn't be interested in any such offer because we feel Hauptmann is innocent."

CITIES PLAN TO OPEN FIGHT ON UTILITY TAXES

Will Seek Injunction Halting Collection of Funds

By Curtis R. Hay

Quincy, Ill., Sept. 19.—(AP)—The legal division of the Illinois Municipal League today unanimously recommended to the league that it attack the validity of the public utility gross receipts tax as it applies to municipalities.

Wasting no time getting to the problem of the 3 per cent tax now assessed by the state against the gross income of both public and privately owned utilities, the division approved a motion recommending:

"That the league immediately attack...the act, employ counsel...and seek an injunction restraining the department of finance from collecting further funds...and from using funds already collected from municipally owned utilities."

The motion was presented by William Lister, corporation counsel of Evanston. Besides corporation counsels from some 70 cities, the sectional meeting drew many officials scheduled to attend other group sessions.

The act and the possibility of an attack on it was generally conceded by 300 officials of Illinois cities and villages, delegates to the league's twenty-second annual convention, to be the principal business to be dealt with during the sessions. The motion will come up for action Saturday, A. D. McLarty, league secretary, said.

Following approval of the motion, the division took up the problem of passing on the utility tax to the consumer. No decision was reached, however.

The legal division also unanimously urged cities and villages owning or operating municipal utility plants to withhold all reports and financial payments as specified by the utility tax act until the supreme court had ruled on the law's validity.

Wayne, 25, and Sturley, 20, were fatally injured while riding in a beer truck. Only the regulation railroad stop signs warn motorists at the crossing, on federal route 36, the jury was informed.

USCC PLANNING FRESH ATTACK ON NEW DEAL

Board of Directors to Open Sessions Today

Washington, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Carrying documents sharply critical of some New Deal actions and enactments the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States tomorrow will begin its first session since congress adjourned.

In a series of reports from special committees, major administration policies and legislation will be dissected, the outlook for the future will be guaged and plans made for presenting recommendations to congress when it reconvenes in January.

With a view to urging changes in recently enacted legislation, a number of special committees have been at work since the board's last meting in June, including one, it was said, dealing with methods of business cooperation supplant the defunct codes of NRA.

It was said at the Chamber today that most of the outright criticism of the New Deal would be found in the committee reports. There was an evident disposition not to issue a statement on behalf of the board, as has been done after numerous past meetings.

The atmosphere of the gathering generally is expected to be far different from that of the session which took place almost exactly a year ago. Then the effort obviously was to pull punches and seek to evolve a harmonious working relationship between the administration and business.

Chamber officials asid today that probably the most important report to be brought before the meeting will be one on "trends in legislation," prepared by a special committee under the leadership of John W. Leary. It will view the enactments of the recent congress as a whole.

In addition, individual reports will be presented by the committee on natural resources, which will take up the Guffey coal law, a committee on railroad invalidations and a committee on agriculture which will review the farm policy of the administration and the activities of AAA.

There also will be a discussion of federal expenditures.

Would Impeach Testimony Of Thomas Mooney

Labor Leader Fighting For His Freedom Completes His Story On Stand

By Louis Ashlock,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

San Francisco, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Two attempts to impeach the testimony of Thomas J. Mooney and abandonment by the state of its cross examination to draw out his radical political views marked the habeas corpus hearing of the convicted Preparedness Day bomber today.

Assistant State Attorney General William Cleary in one instance obtained from Mooney the statement that he heard no word spoken when two policemen brought John McDonald, prosecution witness, to the labor leader's sell here for identification purposes shortly after the bombing of July 22, 1916.

Cleary then called Mooney's attention to his testimony yesterday in which he said he saw McDonald's lips move.

"I saw McDonald's lips move but I heard him say nothing," Mooney replied. "After all, it has been 19 years since that happpened. If you want to know exactly what I said you can go back to the original testimony."

At another point Mooney named a date on which he said he received permission from a union head to organize the employes of the United Railways here.

The life termer, seeking freedom on the ground that he was convicted on perjured testimony, finished his testimony early in the afternoon and his wife, Rena Mooney, was called.

YOUTH MISSING

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Police today prepared to drag the Desplaines river in search of Charles Sawyer, 17-year-old high school senior, who disappeared yesterday.

In his car, parked on the river bank, they found a note in which the youth said: "Dear Pa and Ma: I feel that I have been a big expense to you and I am leaving. Don't have the police look for me." His father, John, said he knew no reason why Charles should have been despondent.

Detroit, Sept. 19—(AP)—An avalanche of mail, 85,000 pieces of it, engulfed the offices of the Detroit Baseball Co., at Navin Field today as fans sent in their applications for tickets to the World Series.

The 85,000 letters were received in the first two deliveries, with a third delivery late in the afternoon expected to increase the total. Today was the first day applications were received.

Louisiana's Governor is Shocked by Rebellion in Ranks; Bars Thrown Down

By Ralph Wheatley

New Orleans, La., Sept. 19.—(AP)—A political coup executed early today by Lieutenant-Governor James A. Noe and Wade O. Martin, chairman of the Louisiana Public Service Commission, apparently let down the bars in the old Long machine and it is everybody for himself.

While the Long lieutenants were squabbling over candidates for the ticket for the January election, Noe and Martin took the bull by the horns and formally announced for governor and United States Senator respectively.

The announcement broke like a thunderclap over the Long camp and sent the Captain, Governor O. K. Allen, into a spin.

The governor plainly was shocked by the rebellion within his ranks and other lieutenants expressed anger.

A few hours later candidates for the lesser state offices almost fell over each other making their announcements.

The first of these was E. A. Conway, announcing for re-election as secretary of state, saying it was Huey Long's wish that he remain in office. He was quickly followed by announcements for re-election of L. B. Baynard, Jr., state auditor, and Lucille Grace, registrar of the state land office. All stand on a Huey Long complete-the-work platform while other lieutenants advocate dropping the Huey Long issue since he is dead.

Governor Allen has declined to make any statement. Some of his advisers have urged him to remain silent until all of the candidatorial announcing is over and then announce which ones will receive administration support.

The Noe-Martin announcements came as a shock to Allen J. Ellender, Speaker of the House and an active applicant for his faction's support for governor.

Ellender has strong backing for the governorship and is in a position to cause a serious schism in the ranks of the Long faction. The Noe followers have attempted to mollify him by asking him to join the ticket as lieutenant-governor with the romise they would support him four years hence for the governorship. But Ellender was reported as not taking kindly to the suggestion.

The row in the Long camp was being watched keenly by the anti-Longs who were having trouble with their own slate. Representative Cleveland Dear, who leads in the talk over an anti-candidate for governor, said they were not ready to announce their candidates yet.

CHICAGO JUDGE GIVES DIVORCE TO BEN BERNIE

Orchestra Leader Had Charged Wife With Desertion

Chicago, Sept. 19—(AP)—Ben Bernie, orchestra leader famous on radio and screen, won a divorce today from Rose H. Anzelevitz (Bernie's real name) in a secret hearing before Judge Rudolph Desort.

"The Old Maestro" testified they were married Nov. 23, 1915, in New Yorkk City and that his wife deserted him in September, 1931.. He testified their son, Jason, 16, was in the custody of his mother.

Although the divorce bill was filed last Monday, under the name Anzelvitz, the name was not recognized as that of the orchestra leader. Two witnesses testified for the musician, his brother, Jeff W. Anzelevitz, business agent for Bernie's orchestra, and his secretary, Eleanor Smith.

Bernie's attorneys, Albert Sabath and Emanuel Goldstrich, declined to discuss terms of a private settlement. Bernie himself could not be found in his usual loop haunts for comment.

Bernie, appearing with his band at a local night club, entered the county building today accompanied by his secretary, Eleanor Smith, and his brother, Max, of Chicago, who testified as his witnesses to the act of desertion.

His wife was represented at the hearing, held behind closed doors, by a Chicago law firm. Bernie's attorney was Albert Sabath, son of a Superior court judge.

Mrs. Anzelevitz was awarded custody of their 61-year-old son, Jason, a student at Culver Military Academy in Indiana, it was learned later.

Mrs. Anzelevitz also received a settlement out of court. The amount was not disclosed.

Immediately after the hearing, which lasted only a few minutes, Bernie left to join the wedding party of Leon Mandel, Chicago department store owner, on Mandel's yacht, "Buccaneer," in the Chicago harbor.

LLOYD GEORGE PREDICTS WAR WITHIN WEEK

Only Drastic Action Can Save Situation He Declares

Bradford, England, Sept. 19.—(AP)—David Lloyd George, declaring the world is "within a week or a fortnight of war," said today only drastic action can save the situation.

The World War Premier, referring to various methods the League of Nations might invoke to prevent war, ranging from the breaking off of diplomatic relations to the use of arms, said: "It is now too late to talk about mild sanctions."

"Ethiopia's appeal to the League had been made in January," he continued. "The Italian leader never concealed his intention in February. He started mobilization and declared quite clearly what was in his mind.

"Why was not the League called together as soon as it became clear Mussolini meant to secure control of the whole of that vast territory in Africa? While the dispute was dragging on, Mussolini has raised and equipped a huge army, and laid up stores which would enable him to carry on a war, not for months but for years."

Professor Finds Len Knoenecke In Mood To Quarrel

Find Traces Of Alcohol In Organs Of Dead Ball Player

BULLETIN

Islington, Ont., Sept. 20.—(Friday)—(AP)—A coroner's jury early today returned a verdict of "self-defense" in the slaying of Leonard Koenecke, Brooklyn baseball player, in an airplane early Tuesday during a struggle with William Joseph Mulqueeny, pilot, and Irwin Davis, parachute jumper.

Islington, Ont., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Professor Joslyn Rogers, chemical analyst of the University of Toronto, at a coroner's inquest over the death of Len Koenecke of the Brooklyn Dodgers, said tonight that his findings indicated Koenecke was in "excellent condition," for a quarrelsome streak to break out, if he had a tendency toward a violent disposition because of the "traces of alcohol found in his organs."

Koenecke was killed in a mid-air fight early last Tuesday by two Detroit aviators, who were held in jail at Toronto while the authorities pursued an investigation into the battle, which the airmen said was brought on because of an alleged intoxicated attempt by the ball player to interfere with operation of the plane.

UNITED STATES TO GUARD ITS NEUTRALITY

Secretary Hull Starts Setting Up Special Machinery

Washington, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The government moved today to set up special machinery to help guard its neutrality in event of foreign conflict.

Amid blackening war clouds abroad, Secretary Hull summoned to their first meeting next Tuesday members of the national munitions control board created by the new neutrality law.

The board, of which Hull is chairman, is required by law to register before December 1 every manufacturer and exporter of arms, munitions and implements of war and thereafter to issue licenses for the shipment of any munitions to other nations.

It will designate what "arms, munitions and implements of war" are included in the law's provisions. This list is expected to form the basis of the munitions embargo which the neutrality acts directs President Roosevelt to declare against shipments to or for any belligerent "upon the outbreak or during the progress of war between or among two or more foreign states."

All arms dealers must pay a registration fee of $500 for a certificate valid for five years and renewable for five year periods. Licenses must be secured from the board for each spcific shipment abroad.

Advocates of the measure, when it was before congress, emphasized that the board would give full publicity to all arms and munitions transactions and make an annual report to congress. The law does not authorize the board to refuse licenses for any shipments, but simply makes the transaction a matter of public record.

Other phases of the neutrality law which do not become effective until the outbreak of a war in which the United States is not involved include authorizations for presidential proclamations prohibiting exports of munitions to belligerents, prohibiting American vessels from transporting munitions to belligerents or to neutrals for transhipment; forbidding submarines of belligerents from entering American ports and warning Americas against travelling on belligeret vessels in wartime.

Beside Hull, the board members include the secretaries of war, treasury, navy and commerce. Secretaries Dern and Morgenthau are absent from Washington and were expected to be represented at the first meeting by General Douglas MacArthur, acting secretary of war, and Acting Secretary of the Treasury Coolidge.

Farmers Demand Wallace Return To Private Life

Resolution States AAA Has Failed To Help Rural Population

Des Moines, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The Iowa Farmers Union heard the AAA denounced by two national speakers here today and adopted a resolution demanding that the program "be immediately halted and Secretaary of Agriculture Wallace returned to private life."

"Another year has shown the general worthlessness and viciousness of the AAA. It has not only failed to bring even the semblance of farm prosperity, but has actually increased the poverty of a large section of the rural population," the Union concluded in adopting the report of its resolutions committee.

Adoption of the resolutions at the state convention of the organization, which has an announced membership of 4,286 followed addresses by Milo Reno of Des Moines, president of the National Farmers Holiday Association, and Gov. Eugene Talmadge of Georgia.

The Holiday Association leader charged the agricultural adjustment administration is using "false propaganda" to mislead the farmer and the public as to the financial condition of the farmer.

Governor Talmadge attacked the administration for the destruction of food stuffs under the AAA program, and said the United States was forced to import products to replace those it has destroyed.

SITUATION IN MEDITERRANEAN IS MORE ACUTE

Veteran Fisherman Says "Billy Gar" Mighty Fine Food

Quincy, Ill., Sept. 19.—(AP)—The despised billy gar, bandit of the Mississippi, is coming into his own.

Properly dressed and cut, the unpopular gar is "mighty fine food," one river front veteran said today, despite the fact that most of the hook and line gentry will go hungry before taking a bait-stealing billy gar home.

The reason for the gar's new popularity—fisherman here say the sturgeon is "playing out" in the Mississippi.

WILLIAM WATTS CHARGED WITH COUNTERFEITING

Secret Service Scores Biggest Bag In Decade

New York, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The government secret service tonight scored what it considered its biggest bag in a decade with the arrest of thin, bald William Watts, former Nebraska drug store clerk, whose talent for engraving lifted him to the government's designation of master counterfeiter of the modern underworld.

Watts, arrested yesterday in a counterfeiting-equipped apartment in Union City, N. J., was held under $50,000 bond.

The former druggist was accused by secret service agents of being the "brains" and master designer of counterfeit money operations which have demoralized race track bookies at Saratoga with a flood of spurious and expertly-designed bills.

Watts, agents said, worked with the elusive Robert Miller, the much-sought "Count Lustig" who recently departed from the federal detention prison via a rope of knotted bed sheets at high noon and in full view of some hundreds of passersby.

"The Count" was arrested several weeks ago on counterfeiting charges and agents said he distributed the spurious money turned out by Watts. He concentrated on race tracks in the New York area.

In Watts' apartment, where he lived alone, agents reported finding a complete counterfeiting outfit, $11,000 of expertly-made $100 notes of the Bank of San Francisco, and approximately $55,000 in federal reserve notes on the federal reserve banks of Dallas and Cleveland.

Agents called the arrest the most important in the last 10 years. At Washington, Joseph Murphy, assistant chief of the secret service, termed Watts the underworld's leading maker of plates and bogus notes.

He said that Watts, through his work, had been responsible for the conviction of 150 to 200 persons who were sent to prison for trying to pass counterfeit money.

U. S. Attorney John J. Manning stated at Watts' arraignment that he was indicted in Chicago and New York and that a third indictment was expected soon in New Jersey.

Masked Maniac Being Sought By Chicago Police

Moron Attacks Young Bride After Lashing Her With Lead-Studded Whip

Chicago, Sept. 19.—(AP)—A masked maniac, who forced a young bride to disrobe, lashed her with a lead-studded whip and assaulted her was hunted by heavy police details on the far west side tonight.

Captain Willard Malone of the Austin station ordered every available patrolman into the search with these instructions:

"Shoot to kill."

Mrs. Helen James, 21-year-old bride of three months, was the victim of the attack, police said. It was the third of its kind attributed to the madman in the last several weeks. His activities have spread terror through the district.

He confronted Mrs. James and her husband, Orlando, in their apartment early today. Brandishing a pistol in a kid-gloved hand, he bound James to a chair and gagged him with a necktie. He compelled Mrs. James to enter an adjoining room. Then turned a radio to its highest pitch, drew a whip and struck her repeatedly.

The moron held the couple prisoner for an hour, munching candy, listening to the radio and chuckling at their anguish. He took Mrs. James' diamond ring and latchkey and left with the warning:

"I'll be back again some night."

POWDER KEG CAN BE SET OFF EASILY

Ships, Airplanes And Troops Are Being Concentrated

By Charles P. Nutter

London, Sept. 19.—(AP)—A "powder keg" situated in the Mediterranean becoming rapidly more dangerous because of Angelo-Italian military concentrations was reported tonight by foreign military observers.

An unexpected incident, they said, might provide the spark for setting off the keg.

There is purpose, they emphasized, behind the speedy mobilization of the best ships, airplanes and troops of both countries within the Mediterranean and at its entrances.

Fears grew in informed quarters there might be an incident such as the blowing up of the battleship Maine to make the present passively dangerous situation far more dangerous.

Two of the world's first line armadas, both recently reinforced with the calling in of reserve craft, are cruising or are anchored in close proximity in the Mediterranean. Both governments, maintaining a strict silence, have reinforced their air squadrons in the neighborhood and precautionary measures proceed apace in affected land bases.

Reuters News Agency reported an official defense proclamation which declared:

"In the event of certain emergencies it may prove necessary to extinguish all lights throughout Gibraltar."

Additional British ships joined the fleet at Gibraltar and evidences came from the Red Sea and the Orient that the British are rapidly moving to tighten up defense all along the line.

Home Rule For Cities

The Illinois Municipal League, in its sessions at Quincy, is discussing more home rule for cities. This question is an annual theme at the convention, and still the legislature continues to pass laws regulating municipal government. At the last session more than seventy separate acts were passed for this purpose, a body of new laws taking up nearly 300 pages of the Session Laws for 1935.

To be sure, some of these laws were designed to give relief in certain difficult situations, such as confronted this city after the bank failure. Legislation was passed at that time to validate certain bonds the city wished to issue to relieve its financial stringency. Such special laws are of passing effect and are beneficial.

But from time to time the legislature passes laws which cramp the powers of municipal officials and make home rule less of a reality. Such legislation can be checked only by a vigorous united effort on the part of the cities, working thru the Municipal league and maintaining vigilant watchers at Springfield during the legislative session. Cities should know what is going on in the capital and be alert to support proposals for their benefit and block bills that would prove injurious.

Cut The Weeds

There has been some complaint of large patches of high weeds at various points in the city. It might be a good idea to inaugurate a weed-cutting project here thru the WPA in the interest of public health and to prevent the future spread of noxious weeds. Weed patches serve as harbors for insects and sources of hay fever irritation.

Weeds are unsightly and detract from the general good appearance of the city. Strangers gain a wrong impression of the town if they see clumps of tall weeds along the streets or in vacant lots. Uncut weeds speak of neglect and carelessness, vices Jacksonville citizens do not want ascribed to themselves.

But the most important thing about weeds is that they multiply rapidly. At this season of the year they go to seed, and the wind carries the seed everywhere, dropping it on good land that will thus become infested with weeds that retard valuable crops. Cutting weeds now will not only destroy an unsightly menace to health, but will prevent a heavier infestation of weeds next year. Citizens would do well to sharpen their scythes and go to work.

Driver and Foot

During the recent Illinois state fair about 3,000 persons tested their reaction time on a machine known as a reactometer. A report on the results has been made public by the State Department of Public Health and Division of Highways. The machine on which the tests were made measures the exact time required for a brain message to reach the foot of a driver to enable him to apply the brakes on his car.

About two-thirds of the people second required one-half second. A few, about one in twenty, required less than one-half second. The remainder, about one in four, were much slower, requiring five-eights to a full second to make the reaction. Women were found to have a slower reaction than men and to tire more easily.

It is important for the driver to know the time it takes him to put his foot on the brake if he wants to use speed. A car equipped with four-wheel brakes in prime condition, traveling 20 miles an hour, will go 22 feet before the average driver gets his foot working and 40 feet before he can stop the car. Traveling 30 miles an hour the car will go 33 feet before the brake can be applied after the driver sends the message from the brain to the foot, and 73 feet before it can be stopped. At 40 miles an hour the car will go 45 feet before the brake is applied and 115 feet before it is brought to a stop.

A car at 60 miles an hour is traveling 88 feet per second and will continue for 222 feet after the driver decides to stop it suddenly. At 70 miles an hour the car will continue for 319 feet after the driver realizes that if he doesn't' do something there will be an accident. By that time it is usually too late and there is an accident.

Grim Ethiopian Affair Has It's Funny Side

By Bruce Catton

If it weren't for the fact that a great many men are likely to get killed because of it, the present squabble over Ethiopia could provide us with a good deal of coarse laughter.

Laugh Number One, of course, would arise form Italy's frantic protestations that she is obliged to move in on Ethiopia because Ethiopian aggression threatens her national security.

Laughs Number Two, Three, Four, and upward would come from the pious and solemn attempts of England and France to stop her.

To appreciate this, let your mind roam back just 20 years.

England and France had a fight with Germany on their hands, and it was a good deal more than they had bargained for. They needed help very badly, and they weren't in a mood to care how much they had to pay for it. So, after much coaxing, they got Italy into the war, hailing her as a great liberty-loving nation and promising her a man's-sized share of the swag.

In the coures of time the war ended, and the Allies got out their knives to have at Germany's colonial possessions. When the dust cleared away, England and France had all the choice pieces and Italy had nothing at all.

Keeping that fact in mind, have a look at a map of Africa. Those parts which are not under either the British or the French flag are comparatively negligible. All Ethiopia, with its 350,000 square miles of land, could be swallowed up many times over in the colonial empires of these two nations.

How did these two nations get those vast territories? They got them in exactly the way Italy proposes to get Ethiopia—by walking in and sticking a gun at the original owners.

With this as a background, then, the French and British moans about Italian rapacity have a somewhat phony ring.

If Italy is driven into this African adventure by her need for colonial markets and sources for raw materials, and if England and France are so desperately anxious to see the peace well and truly kept, one would suppose that the simplest solution would be for them to disgorge a little of their own takings.

Italy would unquestionably settle for a fair slice of Tanganyika, which England took from Germany, or of Algeria, which France took from the natives.

England and France, of course, aren't making any such proposition. Their diplomats would assume expressions of well-bred pain if the idea were even suggested.

It is simpler to call Heaven to witness the wickedness of the greedy Italians—who made the overwhelming mistake of trying to get a slice of Africa after England and France had all the good pieces nailed down.

CLUB MEMBERS HEAR TALK ON CHINA, JAPAN

Miss Amelia DeMotte Addresses Business And Professional Women

A comparative talk upon China and Japan was fascinatingly presented by Miss Amelia DeMotte at the regular meeting of the Business and professional Woman's club held Thursday evening at the Peacock Inn.

Following the supper, Miss Hester Burbridge, president, opened the meeting and introduced Mrs. Anna Rogerson as chairman of the evening's program.

Miss DeMotte, who has recently returned after two months travel in Japan, Korea and China, was impressed with a decided awakening to the western civilization. She left Seattle by the northern route and experienced many variations of climate. Upon docking at Yokahoma scenes of Japanese friends and families greeting each other attracted attention, in a typical manner, a father, mother and four children, who had never seen their grandparents, quietly and with deep respect received ceremonial bows and returned them, showing marked discipline and reserve.

Tokyo was outstanding for its quietness. Beautiful automobiles conveyed the party to fine hotels, where natives displayed the same qualities of voice and manner. Quite noticeable were some of the habits of the people, that of carrying the babies on the backs of the mothers, a custom which is no longer followed by the upper classes.

The people evinced great pride in their schools and there was no trace of war preparations in China, except one factory for poisonous gas.

The principal sights in Japan were the temples and shrines. One art gallery and one national gallery, but it is doubtful whether the new school of art will be of value to the nation, since the combination is grotesque. The torii are a picturesque part of the temple approaches, as a symbol of the shrine. The temples are all lacquered. Gold lacquer and the lotus flower are beautiful in design.

The rice fields are divided into small divisions, with ridges of dirt between and the rice is transplanted from one to the other for cultivation. The harvesting is all done by hand.

In Shanghai there is a decided contrast. The noise creates a tumult in the street, which does not tend toward orderliness. The natives are brusque and do not impress the traveler favorably. This city is really foreign, having the English, French, Russian and Chinese sections. The new government buildings are called the Chinese renaissance. An American architect has combined the roof outline of the temples, and the panelling of the native buildings, with the modern conveniences of an office building in the interior. A revelation which is most pleasing. A new civic center outside of Shanghai includes an administration building, hospital, stadium, library. The stadium will seat from 40 to 60 thousand people.

Not only in architecture but in many departments of their civilization there is a modern course being pursued, which will eventually make China a united country.

Miss DeMotte displayed to the members many beautiful articles, brought from the Orient, which were an added feature to the program. the fabrics included the "Bundle Square," made of silk with an original design; the Obi, or sash, which is brocaded silk, 4½ yards long; ivory boxes, lacquered trays and boxes in red, black and green and the "saki" whistling bottle were also in the collection. The Chinese dolls and Japanese dolls from the School for the Deaf in Tokyo were gowned in brocaded silk and were exquisitely made.

Preceding the meeting a musical program was given by Miss Margaret Tomlinson, which was also greatly enjoyed. Group singing was lead by Miss Lorene Deweese, with Miss Mary Clampit at the piano.

Miss Burbridge announced the next meeting for October 3. The supper committee will be Miss Helen Stranberg, Miss Jane Crawford, Miss Fern Taylor. Guests included: Miss Williams, Mrs. R. A. Gates, Mrs. W. C. Meeker, Mrs. Coultas, Miss Pyatt, Miss Florence Rice, Miss Jessie Jenks.

BUTTER IMPORTS SHOW RAPID DROP SINCE LATE SPRING

Urbana, Ill.—A rapid falling off in foreign butter imports has accompanied increased domestic production and decreased consumption this summer, according to reports received by the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, from the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

No New Zealand butter has been imported since April 1, it is stated in the report. European imports amounted only to 177,238 pounds in July of this year as compared to 1,437,000 in June and 2,665,000 in May.

While imports have been decreasing, domestic production has been increasing. June butter production this year amounted to approximately 197 million pounds as compared to 183 million last year. Consumption, however, decreased from 140 million pounds in June, 1934 to 135 million in the same month this year, the bureau reported.

Domestic prices have dropped considerably since February. During that month the New York price of 92-score butter was 35.8 cents a pound. Since then it has declined to a current quotation of slightly less than 24 cents. London prices have increased slightly during the same period, moving up from 18.8 to a little less than 20 cents.

Under the February London and New York price conditions, importers could pay the 14-cent import tariff on each pound of butter brought into the country and still have a margin of profit. However, as the spread between New York and London prices decreased, the margin disappeared and imports declined.

Total imports for the first six months of 1935 amounted to 21,500,000 pounds with the bulk coming in during the first four months. Since the New York price has dropped to less than 24 cents a pound, the scant margin of 4 cents a pound means that importers can not afford to bring butter over the 14-cent tariff.

J. C. Wempel of Waverly was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

The opening address of the conference was given by Dr. L. H. Koehler of Normal who is the state director of Religious Education. Rev. Koehler denounced the trend of lawlessness and disregard of the sacred rights of our countrymen. Linfield of the Methodist church in White Hall, whose subject was "Religious Pageantry"; Rev. W. M. Rowlen, of the Christian church of Carrollton, who spoke on "A Young Man's Vision"; Rev. J. A. Carlile of Jerseyville gave an inspirational sermon; Rev. W. W. Brown of Greenfield, Rev. J. R. Hastings of Springfield; Dr. Bruce Kenney of Denver, Colorado; Miss Nellie Evelyn Lucas, of Maubin, Burma; Rev. Joseph Jenkins of Jerseyville, Rev. W. R. Johnson of Roodhouse. Those who led the worship included: Rev. C. W. Kerst, White Hall; Rev. Milo Moore, Kane; Rev. P. J. Patman, Manchester; Rev. J. F. Breen, White Hall; and Rev. Garfield Rodgers of Jacksonville.

See Challenge to Gov. Talmadge's Political Strength

Roosevelt to Speak During Thanksgiving Week in Big Georgia Bowl

Atlanta—(AP)—A challenge to the political strength of Gov. Eugene Talmadge was seen today by many Georgians in the published report that President Roosevelt would open his southern campaign for renomination with a speech in Atlanta.

Talmadge, Democratic governor and bitter critic of the president, was carrying on his fight against Mr. Roosevelt in a series of speeches in the middle west when the Atlanta engagement was announced.

The Atlanta Constitution said Mr. Roosevelt would speak here late in November, when he will be on his annual visit to Warm Springs.

It was added that in accepting the invitation extended by the Georgia congregational delegation, Mr. Roosevelt said the speech would be delivered during Thanksgiving week.

At Hyde Park, N. Y., aides of the president said there was no immediate indication of an announcement by Mr. Roosevelt on his candidacy in Georgia during his fall visit to Warm Springs.

Senators Richard B. Russell, Jr., and Walter F. George are in charge of arrangement for the occasion. They expect the speech to be delivered at Grant Field, Georgia Tech's football stadium, which will seat over 50,000 persons.

Governor Talmadge came to an open break with the president several months ago when he criticized New Deal policies and declared the renomination of Mr. Roosevelt "would be a calamity."

WHEAT MEN BUSY GETTING NEW PLAN STARTED IN STATE

Urbana, Ill.—Determined to prevent recurrences of burdensome wheat surpluses and bankrupt prices such as were experienced in 1932, wheat growers and county wheat association officials throughout Illinois are working to place the new AAA four-year adjustment program into effect as soon as possible, according to reports from the extension service of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Illinois is the ninth ranking wheat state of the nation and therefore one of the leaders in getting the new program under way. While there is no definite forecast as to how many wheat contracts will be signed in Illinois under the new program, the 12-to-1 referendum vote registered last spring in favor of continuing the program in the state promises strong support for the new plan, according to the extension service. On the basis of recent developments, the coming sign-up is estimated at a possible 27,000 contracts as compared with 23,982 in the original wheat program.

Twenty-two district educational meetings were held throughout the state beginning September 6 and ending September 10 during which approximately 96 farm advisers and 200 county and district wheat allotment committeemen attended. The purpose of the meeting was to give the county and district workers complete details of the new contract.

Recognizing that the emergency is largely over, AAA wheat section officials designed the new contract as a flexible instrument in maintaining the ground gained, according to information from the extension service. Both the producer and the consumer will be protected against a return of those days when wheat was 25 cents a bushel and industry was in the doldrums because the farmer had no money with which to buy goods.

Through adjustment payments and actual adjustment in acreage from year to year, producers will have a guarantee of parity prices on 34 per cent of their annual average production as well as assurance that the carryover will not become so large as to depress prices unduly. The reason for the comparatively small reduction of 5 per cent below base acreage on the 1935 crop is that domestic supplies stand at about normal and there is no need for a large adjustment in acreage. However, the program is set up so that reductions up to 25 per cent of the base may be made in case of bumper crops.

The consumer is protected against dangerous shortages of wheat and exorbitant prices by provisions which not only require contract signers to seed 54 per cent of their base acreage each year but allow for increases in acreage should short crops create a need for additional wheat.

Sons of Ministers Discussed at Club

Kiwanis Speaker Refutes Impression They're Bad; Lists Famous Ones

Discrediting the idea he said had taken root in some persons' minds that "preachers' sons are bad" Rev. Glenn Schillerstrom, pastor of the State Street Presbyterian church, spoke of the accomplishments of ministers' sons at the Thursday meeting of the local Kiwanis club. Prior to Rev. Mr. Schillerstrom's talk Lohman Wagner was welcomed as a new member of the club.

The speaker, who said he is not the son of a preacher, stated that there is one minister to approximately every 300 persons in the United States. This being true, he remarked it would be expected that one of each 300 people would become a president, one out of the same number would become a senator, etc. Statistics show that four presidents of the United States have been sons of ministers, this number being far in excess of the average.

The speaker listed the names of famous men who were preachers' sons. They include in addition to the four presidents of the United States, John Hancock, signer of the Declaration of Independence, three sons of David Field, Henry Ward Beecher, John and Charles Wesley. Twelve thousand Americans are listed as leaders in literature, and of this number 1,000 are sons of ministers. Admiral Nelson who twice directed British fleets against Napoleons' ships victoriously, was the son of a minister. Morse, inventor of telegraphy, and Thomas A. Edison were also sons of ministers. Charles Evans Hughes, chief justice of the Supreme Court, is also the son of a minister.

Guests at yesterday's club meeting included W. H. Cocking, Harvey Green, Clifford Poole of this city, David Reynolds of Woodson; Ralph Rigden of St. Louis and Oscar Brisendine.

Rebuild Basement Entrance to Church

First Baptist Building is Improved and Repaired; Construct New Stair

Repairs and improvements have been in progress for sometime at First Baptist church here. Contractor Joseph Ludwig is in charge of the work, which will probably be completed this week. The main job has been the removal and rebuilding of the stairway leading to the basement rooms from the front entrance of the church.

The old circle stairway has been removed and a stair without curves, but leading from square landings, has been built in its place. The circle wall that encloses the entrance has been relined on the inside with an auxiliary wall, and the entire interior of the entrance has been refinished in attractive style.

Repairs made on the building have increased the strength of the floor in the basement. On each side new sills and joists were put in place and the floor leveled up so that it is now in first class condition.

2 Griggsville Men Summoned by Death

Charles Page Hatch and Charles H. Sparow's Deaths Reported

Griggsville—Charles Page Hatch, 82 years old, a prominent retired farmer, died at 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning at his home here after a lingering illness.

Mr. Hatch was born in Griggsville Nov. 30, 1853, a son of Franklin and Rebecca Hatch. He was united in marriage with Ann Lasbury Nov. 6, 1883.

Surviving are his wife, two children, Charles H. Hatch and Miss Mary L. Hatch; one brother, Marshall P. Hatch all of Griggsville.

Funeral services will be held at the St. James Episcopal church at a time to be announced, with Rev. J. K. Putt officiating. Interment will be made in Griggsville cemetery.

Charles H. Sparow

Charles Henry Sparow, a lifetime Pike county citizen, passed away at five o'clock Wednesday afternoon after a long illness. He had been a resident of Griggsville since a young man.

Mr. Sparow was born near Pittsfield May 11, 1862, a son of John and Samantha Haven Sparow. He was united in marriage May 26, 1897 with Laura Foreman, who survives together with a half sister, Mrs. Alice Sweeney of Hannibal, Mo.

The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the residence, Rev. O. F. Jones, Methodist minister, officiating. Interment will be made in Griggsville cemetery.

"ALL-BRAN FORMS MAJOR PORTION OF MY BREAKFAST"

Delicious Cereal Relieved His Constipation*

Read Mr. Huyghe's voluntary letter: "After suffering for years, I happened to notice in the grocery a box of ALL-BRAN. I determined to give it a fair trial.

"Today it forms the major portion of my breakfast. I cannot say enough for its effect, as I am a man 58 years of age, at a time in life when one needs just what ALL-BRAN does for you."—Mr. Robt. A. Huyghe, 810 Union Street, New Orleans, La.

Constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals.*

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" to exercise the intestines. Also vitamin B and iron.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. With each meal, in serious cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN resists digestion better than the "bulk" in leafy vegetables. How much better to use this gentle food in place of patent medicines.

At all grocers in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Wants to Wed Rothstein's Inez

Hoping to win over his banker-father to approval of the alliance, Thomas C. Neal, Jr., 24, of Chicago, blithely planned to marry Inez Norton, 32, sweetheart of the late gambler, Arnold Rothstein. He's shown beauing her attentively in a New York nightclub.

Aloisi Remains in Geneva as Council Discusses Problem

Concentration of British Fleet Regarded as More Serious Issue Now

Geneva—(AP)—An Italian source said today that the fact Baron Pompeo Aloisi, chief Italian delegate to the League of Nations, was remaining in Geneva indicated that Premier Mussolini had found the league's Italo-Ethiopian compromise plan unacceptable.

The source, close to the Italian delegation, added that the baron's remaining here suggested that Il Duce saw no need for a conference in Rome with Baron Aloisi.

Delegates discussed the statements made yesterday by Italian spokesmen here and in Rome that the compromise plan was "absolutely unacceptable as a basis for negotiation."

Many of the delegates expressed the opinion that the concentration of a powerful British fleet in the Mediterranean would result in a more serious development in case of a collective economic boycott against Italy as a penalty for aggression.

Preliminary conversations between some great powers concerning the possibility of applying sanctions persisted as the league looked to Premier Mussolini for a final answer to the question—war or peace?

Some delegations believed Il Duce might regard economic sanctions as virtual acts of war and that a naval blockade probably would follow any proclamation of a boycott.

With the league five-power committee's proposal for collective assistance for Ethiopia in the hands of Italy, there were no indications, however, that the talk of possible future sanctions had become generalized.

Sanctions can be discussed officially only by the league council, when and if Italy flaunts league recommendations adopted unanimously by the council, and resorts to an unprovoked war. The crisis was still in the conciliation stage.

SILO MAY BE USED TO STORE SURPLUS HAYS FOR WINTER

Urbana, Ill.—Since hay mows are already bulging with good legume hay, silos probably will be pressed into the unusual service of furnishing space for much of the additional hay crops being raised in Illinois this year, said W. B. Nevens, associate chief in dairy cattle feeding at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Contrary to the popular opinion, most legume hays make excellent silage for dairy cows if handled in the right way, Nevens declared. Alfalfa, soybeans and the various clovers, all of which are growing in abundance in the state this year, can be made into palatable, nutritious ensilage.

The only difficulty with legumes as silage is that they will develop a strong, unpleasant odor and become unpalatable if put into the silo too green. This is caused by deterioration of the large amount of protein in such crops. This condition not only reduces the feeding value of the ensilage but also is likely to taint the milk, since the odor will pervade the entire barn. Some of the taint also is carried to the milk from the silage eaten by the cows.

Allowing the legume hay to wilt and dry out after it is cut will help prevent the unpleasant odor and taste. The surest method of preventing the development of these damaging qualities, however, is to mix fairly green corn with the legumes half-and-half by weight or not less than one load of green corn to two loads of legumes. The additional sugar in the corn causes an acid to form, thus preventing deterioration of the protein and the development of the bad taste and smell, Nevens explained.

Another method which may be used where green corn is not available is to mix black strap or sugar beet molasses with the hay at the rate of 1 to 2 per cent, or 20 to 40 pounds to the ton.

RUSHES TO BEDSIDE OF KIN IN NEW YORK

White Hall—R. L. Davis has been called to New York City by the serious illness of his brother-in-law, R. S. Wambold. Mr. Davis went to St. Louis and boarded an airplane at Lambert Field at 11 o'clock Tuesday night. He arrived in New York City at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning, according to a telegram received by relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Piper and two children arrived home Wednesday after making an extended visit with Mrs. Piper's parents in Tracey, Minn. They had previously made a trip through western states including stops in Washington, Yellowstone park and Canada.

Mrs. Albert Pearce of Carrollton underwent an operation at the White Hall hospital Wednesday for removal of her tonsils.

Mrs. Willard Dodsworth of Franklin was among the Thursday afternoon shoppers in the local community.

MORE INFESTATION OF HESSIAN FLY IN STATE THIS SEASON

Urbana, Ill.—Hessian fly, most serious insect pests of wheat, has increased during the past year, according to W. P. Flint, entomologist for the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, and the Illinois State Natural History Survey. Consequently, seeding wheat on or after the fly-free date will be more important this year than in 1934, he added.

Because of wet weather and ideal fly conditions in many sections of the state this year, there has been an increase in fly infestation over that of the late summer of 1934. In some parts of Illinois this increase has amounted to as much as 200 or 300 per cent. While infestation in stubble is not as high as the present time as it has been in some years, it is high enough to threaten serious fly damage to any early sown wheat, Flint declared.

The fly-free date for the extreme northern section of the state is about September 18. This section reaches as far south as the central part of Henry, Bureau, LaSalle, Grundy and Will counties.

September 22 is the fly-free date for the next section which comes down far enough to include parts of Hancock, McDonough, Fulton, Tazewell, McLean and Ford counties. Growers in the central section which reaches to the middle of Pike, Scott, Morgan, Sangamon, Moultrie and Edgar counties may sow their wheat with safety after September 28.

Growers in the south central section of the state should wait until after October 1 to seed their wheat. The section reaching down to Madison, Bond, Clay, Richland and Lawrence counties is included in the October 2 date, while the next section reaching far enough south to include most of Randolph, Perry, Franklin, Hamilton and White counties comes under the October 6 date. Growers in the southern 10 to 12 counties should wait until October 9.

In some parts of the state chinch bugs also may cause slight damage to the 1936 wheat crop. However, wheat sown on strong ground is not likely to be seriously damaged next year, Flint said.

GREENE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS PAYS OLD BILLS

Sale Of Bonds Enables Officials To Take Action; Othe News Notes

Carrollton, Ill., Sept. 19.—The Greene County Board of Supervisors at their September regular meeting announced that all county warrants that have been owing for the past two years or over are now being paid off at the Greene County Bank. The board has realized the money to make those payments from the sale of bonds issued last month.

It became the duty of the board to appoint a temporary county agent to take charge of the pauper relief for a period of ninety days. Robert L. Edwards superintendent of the Greene County Home, was named as superintendent of pauper relief, the appointment being a temporary one because it is believed that the legislature will be called soon to make a change in the law.

Mr. Edwards was also reappointed for superintendent of the county house for another year, at a salary of $1,100, that amount to cover also his service as pauper relief officer. The board granted blind pensions to Priscilla Wood of Carrollton, Jane Harrington of White Hall, William Kessinger and Fred Shinn of Hillview.

News Notes

Mrs. Grace Linder of this city has been appointed by the Greene County Relief Committee to the office of administrator to succeed Mrs. L. Waddell, who resigned the office, September 1. Several weeks ago the committee met and voted to appoint Mrs. Linder, but a delegate from Springfield refused to sanction this action stating that an administrator would be brought to the White Hall office from outside of the county. As no action has been taken on the matter, the local board appointed Mrs. Linder, who is now in charge. Reports are that the number of employes in the office are to be reduced considerably.

The Carrollton Fire department was called to the home of Albert Geers at 10:15 a. m., Thursday, where a kerosene stove on which Mrs. Geers was preparing a meal, exploded and was threatening to destroy the house. The fire was quickly gotten under control. The stove which was a costly one was destroyed and the paper and painting of the kitchen was scorched so badly that they will have to be repainted and papered. Mrs. Geers was lucky in not being injured except fright, as she was in the room, when the stove exploded. The damage is covered by insurance.

Rev. Lyle D. Stone, pastor of the local Presbyterian church accompanied Rev. W. D. Thomas of the Baptist church to Jerseyville, Tuesday where both pastors delivered talks at the Greene-Jersey Baptist churches conference.

Miss Rosalie Ehart spent the week-end with Miss Dorothy Roodhouse at White Hall.

George and Leonard Carmody and Miss Mary Gallouly of St. Louis spent a few days this week with Mr. and Mrs. Tim E. Carmody.

Mrs. Eva Luton and Mrs. Zack Roberts were in St. Louis, Monday attending a demonstration of beauty culture.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Titus of Springfield were guests during the past week of her sister, Mrs. Norman L. Jones.

Chief Justice Norman L. Jones is expected home next week from Moncoqua, Wisc., where he spent his summer vacation.

STRAWN'S CROSSING CLUB HOLDS MEET AT DEATON HOME

The regular meeting of the Strawn's Crossing Woman's club was held Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 17, at the home of Mrs. Edward Deaton. There was a large attendance of members and guests. Mrs. Ethel Strawn, the president, had charge of the business meeting.

Plans were made for the annual meeting of the organization, with the appointment of the following committees: Program—Mrs. Oliver Cromwell, chairman, Mrs. J. W. Rawlings and Mrs. Eva Murray. Domestic Science—Mrs. Dolph Bosier, chairman, Mrs. Christina Strawn, Mrs. J. W. Ledford, Mrs. Charles Curtis and Mrs. Helen Wheeler. During the business session, Mrs. Ben Lurton, a charter member, was reinstated to membership.

Mrs. Eva Murray read a paper on the life of Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt, Mrs. Charles Curtis also read a paper, using modern homes as her theme. The hostess served delicious refreshments during the social hour at the close of the program.

Cubs Beat Giants 6 To 1 And Sweep Series; Cards Trim Dodgers

Gen. Bill Lee Outpitches Carl Hubbell and Bruins Win Their 16th Straight

By Paul Mickelson
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chicago, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Unstoppable even by the southpaw shots of the great Carl Hubbell, the Chicago Cubs rolled onward and upward today to a "grand slam" over the east by crushing the New York Giants, 6 to 1, for their 16th straight conquest.

No sooner had the uproarious throng of 30,237 spectators settled in their seats than the men of Grimm, who haven't been stopped since the second game of Labor Day's double header against Cincinnatti, arose to smash the offerings of Hubbell for two runs that sealed the victory before a single batsman had been retired.

They added their other markers over the sixth, seventh and eighth innings, but they didn't need them as "General" Bill Lee throttled the Giant guns so effectively that they didn't get a single hit until manager Bill Terry topped one in front of the plate in the fourth and beat it out. Lee surrendered only six hits, three of them scratch infield safeties.

Not since 1916, when the Giants established an all-time record of winning 26 games in succession and added a 17-game winning streak has any National League club run up such a record as the Cubs have in turning back the Eastern clubs in successive four-game series.

The four defeats sent the Giants 7½ games behind the Cubs. They came to Wrigley field fresh from a great three out of four game conquest of the St. Louis Cardinals that had revived their pennant hopes. A grand total of 123,101 fans, most of them in a frenzy from the first inning of the first game on to the finish, watched the series. The Cubs engage the Pittsburgh Pirates in a two-game series Saturday and Sunday then move on to St. Louis for their final drive—a five-game series with the Red Birds.

In jarring Hubbell at the outset, the non-stop Cubs started right in where they left off in yesterday's wild jamboree. Augie Galan, the little outfielder who probably ranks as the greatest hero of the team, opened the 16th victory march by smashing a 3 and 2 ball for a single to left and Bill Herman scored him by exploding his 54th double of the season against the red brick wall in left. No sooner had Terry sent in a rush call for a pitcher to warm up in the bull pen than Fred Lindstrom slashed a double down the left field line, scoring Herman. After Hartnett had grounded out, Frank Demaree carried on with a single but Hubbell tightened, halting what looked like another scoring riot.

Except for a brief flurry occasioned by a walk to Galan and a single by Herman in the second after two were out, Hubbell retired the Cubs in order until the sixth when Hartnett singled, took second on a perfect sacrifice by Demaree and raced home on Phil Cavarretta's single.

Hubbell was nicked for three more hits and two more runs in the seventh, Galan again touching off the rally with a single to left. Herman sent him to second with a sacrifice and Lindstrom scored him with his second hit, a single.

Hartnett drove Lindstrom in with a double to the right field corner, a double play cut the Cubs off from doing further damage after Demaree had walked, Cavarretta obliging by hitting into the twin killing, Cucinello to Bartell to Terry.

New York's only run was pushed over in the eighth when it didn't mean a thing except to spoil a shutout for "General" Lee. Cuccinello opened with a slashing single to center, the second sound Giant hit of the afternoon, moved to second on a wild pitch and then scored on a pair of infield outs. The Cubs got that one right back in their half of the eighth on a single by Hack, a sacrifice by Juggs, a scratch hit by Lee and a single by Herman.

Allyn Stout, a right hander had replaced Hubbell in the eighth after Terry had lifted the southpaw for pinch hitter Phil Weintraub.

Bowlers Will Open Friday Night Loop

Eight Teams To Begin Play In Second Of Leagues Here Tonight

With the alleys given the official sanction of the American Bowling Congress, another of the leagues will get underway here tonight when the Friday Night League opens its season's play. Eight teams have been enrolled for the league.

John Ferry, secretary, and Roy Vensel, assistant secretary, yesterday gave the alleys the inspection required by the A. B. C. and found them to come up to the rigid specifications. With the alleys sanctioned, officials of the bowling association here plan to wait until there are at least three leagues functioning and to then sanction the leagues.

The eight teams which will open play tonight are the O. K. Cigars, White Front No. 2, Knights of Columbus No. 2, Illinois Steel Bridge Co., Saner Brothers, Weyand Shoes and Swift and Company.

It is hoped that another league will be ready to open by Tuesday night of next week. Four teams already have signed up for the night.

Series Tickets On Sale Sept. 30

Chicago, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs, apparently pennant bound, made definite plans today for the sale of world series tickets with an announcement by Owner Philip K. Wrigley.

"Under present arrangements," Wrigley said, "world series tickets will be sold at public sale at Wrigley Field beginning about Sept. 30 or Oct. 1.

"We have several thousand patrons, however, whom we know and whose reservations we are taking care of by mail.

"We cannot handle a general reservation by mail as time will not permit."

Prices for series tickets here have been established at $6.60 for box seats, $5.50 for grandstand, with the stipulation they must be bought in sets of three.

Reds Take Game From Phils 6-1

Cincinnati, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds clung to fifth place in the National League today as Paul Derringer won his twentieth victory, setting down the Phillies 6 to 1.

Until the ninth, Derringer was well-headed for a shutout. He allowed only two hits until then, both of them by Moore. Then Watkins singled and Moore doubled for his third blow, and Allen's grounder to Riggs allowed the only Philly run to come in. Derringer fanned eight Phils in all.

SOFT BALL SCORES

The Wright Lumber Company girl's softball team trounced New Berlin Wednesday night 43-8. Batteries for New Berlin, Regan and McGinnis; for Wright, Taylor and Chumley. The Wright team will play the first game of a Sunday night double header at the local park with the Famous girl's team of Springfield.

The Walker Cafe softball team played a double header in Virginia last night with Cass Farmers and Phillips 66, the two teams tied for the league in that city. In the first game a no-hit performance by Stevens and an attack led by "Popeye" Hudson with a circuit blow gave the Cafe aggregation a 6-0 win over the Cass Farmers.

In the second game, Wagner pitched a 7-1 victory over the Virginia Phillips team and with his teammate Abernathy hit a circuit blow. MacFarlane caught both games.

The Alcazar, Cosgriff and Ford V-8 girl's teams were victors in a triple bill at the soft ball diamond last night.

Illinois Power and Light lost to the Alcazar team 19-12. Batteries. For Alcazar, Campbell pitch, Bell catch. For Ill. Power and Light, Hizer pitch, Gaumer catch.

In the second game the Cosgriff outfit won over the Lions 10-6. Batteries. For Cosgriff's, Ferguson pitch, Kitner catch. For the Lions, Barens and Kushner pitch, Di Censo catch.

The feature contest at the soft ball park Sunday evening will bring the Famous Men's team from Springfield to meet the local Walker's Cafe organization. This contest will be the second game of the double header starting at approximately 8:45 o'clock.

CANCEL GAME

Lebanon, Ill., Sept. 19.—(AP)—McKendree College today cancelled a football game with the Scott Field Flyers, scheduled for Saturday. Coach Paul Waldorf feared competition with a non-college team might jeopardize the eligibility of McKendree athletes.

ASSISTANT COACH

Bourbonnais, Ill., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Gene Donnelly today was appointed assistant to Head Football Coach John McNamara at St. Viator College. Donnelly is a graduate of the University of Chicago.

Cubs' Luck Comes in Pounds

Paul Dominick, all 115 pounds of him, is the reason the Chicago Cubs are headed for the National League pennant. The 15-year-old mascot of the Bruins has been sitting on the Cubs' bench ever since they started their sensational dash to the top, and here he is sitting on the protesting knee of Manager Charley Grimm. The club plans to take the mascot on its road trip as it finishes the season.

11 Veterans Make Greenfield Another Valley Hot Prospect

Games Friday.
Pleasant Hill at Greenfield (night.)
White Hall at Beardstown (2:30 p. m.)
Virginia at Winchester (2:30 p. m.)
Carrollton at Girard.
Roodhouse at Quincy (night.)

Games Saturday.
Pittsfield at J. H. S. (2 p. m.)
Jerseyville at Wood River.

Game Sunday.
Routt high at Trinity, Bloomington.

With the opening game of the Illinois Valley conference slated for tonight, and the opening date at hand for several other conference teams, a hasty survey of the prospects reveals that aside from Roodhouse, White Hall and Winchester, where a large number of veterans have reported, Greenfield can be classed in the category of "hot spots" in the league. Coach C. F. Hubbell, who had a disastrous season in his first year as coach there, has 11 veterans available and some new material that is going to get in the line-up ahead of some of the veterans.

The Greenfield lads will open the Illinois Valley conference season tonight against Pleasant Hill, coached by Art Lathrop, former Illinois Wesleyan university star. Just what Pleasant Hill will have in the way of opposition has not been broadcast very extensively, but Coach Bruno Bierman, who has moved the scene of his endeavors over to White Hall, from Pleasant Hill, says there were a number of good looking prospects there.

While the Greenfield-Pleasant Hill game will top the week-end card for interest in the Valley conference, coaches and fans will keep an eye on Roodhouse when the Carrollton open up at Quincy tonight, on White Hall at Beardstown this afternoon, and on Winchester, which entertains Virginia on the Scott county grid today. Carrollton also will open its schedule, playing at Girard, while Jerseyville will put off its opener until Saturday, at Wood River.

Nine games are ahead of the Greenfield team, but with an ample supply of lettermen and a number of up and coming reserves, the prospects are considerably brighter than they were last year when Greenfield faced a ten game schedule with only a few lettermen.

Coach Hubbell can put an entirely veteran eleven on the field if he so choses tonight. He has available Tom Weisner, fullback, Fred Ford, quarterback, Hubert Cole and Robert Parks, halfbacks, Louis Meng and Floyd Tate, ends, Charles Good and W. Jones, tackles, K. Park and Adrian Short, guards, and John Davenport, center, all of whom won letters last year.

In addition to that, he can draw upon Ferris Ford and Kermit Fansler, centers; Bernard Kirbach, Bill Meeks and Lindell Scott, guards; Dean Nash and Raymond Mears, tackles; Junior Stone, Charles Barton and H. N. Green, ends; Earlom Cole, quarterback, Loren Haven and John Scott, halfbacks.

Greenfield will play all of its home games under lights in the natural bowl, beginning at 7:45 p. m. The schedule is as follows:

Sept. 20—Pleasant Hill here.
Sept. 27—At Jerseyville.
Oct. 4—Jacksonville here.
Oct. 11—Mt. Olive here.
Oct. 19—At White Hall.
Oct. 25—Winchester here.
Nov. 1—At Girard.
Nov. 8—Carrollton here.
Nov. 15—At Pittsfield.

Terry Picks Bruins to Defeat St. Louis

Says They Are Hot and Can't Do Anything Wrong; Tie 19 Year Old Record

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chicago—(AP)—Bill Terry, manager of the vanquished Giants, favors the Cubs to conquer the Cardinals in the final furious stretch drive for the National league championship.

He can see nothing but the Cubs playing the Detroit Tigers in the world series.

The leader of the Giants made this prediction today as his players faced the Cubs in the final and fourth game of a series, in which they have been beaten three straight games.

Asked his choice between the Cubs and Cardinals, Terry replied:

"Why, the Cubs the way they are going. They are playing way over their heads. They are 'hot' right now just like the Cardinals were last year. Everything they do turns out in their favor. It's just one of those things nobody can explain."

With this off his chest and with a big black cigar stuck in his mouth, Terry sauntered down the steps of the club house looking as though he had lost his last friend.

After their third straight defeat, which dropped them six and one-half games behind the pace setting Cubs, the Giants appeared to be the most down trodden group of athletes in existence. They were sullen, irritable and inclined to do no talking even among themselves. Terry was the last to leave the clubhouse and he was in no spirit to talk.

The Cubs walloped the Giants in ten of their last eleven games, and yesterday's brutal 15 to 3 lacing, the worst of the season, was enough to give them the jitters.

Having tied the National league's best winning streak in the last 19 years, Brooklyn's 15 in a row in 1924, the Cubs were supremely confident of walloping the Giants again today and tearing after Pittsburgh in the final two games of the year at Wrigley Field Saturday and Sunday.

Catcher "Gabby" Hartnett, 34 year old sparkplug of the Cubs' defense, figures that if the Cubs can invade St. Louis with a lead of one and one half games and then beat the Cardinals just once, it will be all over for the Gas House gang. They play a five-game series.

"Those guys are worried now," Hartnett yelled. "They're wondering if we are ever going to lose a game. I'll bet the Cardinals go daffy every time they see another victory posted for the Cubs."

100,000 Will See Baer-Louis Fight

By Alan Gould,

New York, Sept. 19.—(AP)—All records for heavyweight fight attendance in New York, boom-time or otherwise, will be broken if, as now seems likely, Joe Louis and Max Baer fight before a capacity house in the Yankee Stadium next Tuesday night.

Promoter Mike Jacobs of the 20th Century Sporting Club declared today that a complete sellout will mean an attendance of nearly 100,000 and gate receipts approximating $1,200,000, including the taxes.

Baer Will Have to Win Quick, Claim

Baer is Edgy as Time For Battle of Ring Career Nears; Louis Ready

Pompton Lakes, N. J.—(AP)—Here's a tip for Max Baer on how he can whip Joe Louis at the Yankee Stadium Tuesday night and it comes from no other than John Roxborough, manager of the Detroit bomber.

"The only chance Baer has to beat Joe is to slip over a low left-handed punch in the first round, paralyze Louis and then nail him with a right," declared Roxborough.

"Understand I am not saying that Max will do that," added Joe's manager, "but if he tosses one low blow, it will be just too bad. We will start throwing them too. We may lose the round but I am sure we can afford to lose more than Baer."

James J. Braddock, who lifted the heavyweight crown from Baer in June, agrees with Roxborough in that Max will be in for the fight of his life next week.

Speculator, N. Y.—(AP)—Max Baer is a little "edgy" today, a little argumentative.

If you take those signs as indications of perfect physical condition, which fight handlers do, then the erratic Californian is ready to duel Joe Louis in the Yankee Stadium Tuesday night.

For instance, a reporter from a New York newspaper whose sports editor favors the other fellow, got a little close to the big curly head. Baer casually dropped a short right hand punch on the writer's shoulder.

"Take that back to your editor," he growled.

Now the reporter can't write on a typewriter. He has to dictate his stories.

Baer is getting mean in his training ring. Down so fine at 211 pounds that some of the visiting trainers and experts crowding his camp think he is overdoing it, Max is evening up for past indignities.

He smashed George Turner of Tulsa around yesterday, after the 19-year-old 190-pounder had made a punching bag of him for a couple of days. He knocked down Abe Feldman, a real heavyweight, for the first time in Feldman's busy career.

Pirates Noseout Braves 7 To 6

Pittsburgh, Sept. 19.—(AP)—A thrilling double play started by Outfielder Woody Jensen that cut off the tying run at the plate was the final scene Pittsburgh fans had of their 1935 team at home as the Pirates beat Boston 7 to 6 today.

One run was in Thompson was on third, and Mallon on first with one out when Fletcher flied to Jensen. The Pirate's perfect peg caught Thompson at the plate.

Waite Hoyt drove in the final two Pittsburgh runs in the eighth with a line single to center, after Catcher Grace had been purposely passed, filling the sacks.

"Dizzy" Dean Holds Robins To Six Hits, Fans Nine and Takes 27th Victory of Year

St. Louis, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The Cardinals called on the willing Dizzy Dean today to hold their winning pace against Brooklyn, then went to work vigorously and pounded out a 9 to 1 decision in their final game with the Dodgers. The victory enabled the Cards to hold their place 2½ games behind the fast-stepping Chicago Cubs and increase their margin over New York's third-place Giants to five games.

Dean did all that was required of him and a little more when he held the Dodgers to six hits and struck out nine of them to hang up his 27th victory of the season. After the fourth inning such flinging wasn't needed as the Cards piled three hits on top of a Dodger error to take a 3-1 lead in the fourth and added four more tallies in a fifth-inning burst. Jim Collins topped off the attack with his 22nd homer in the sixth.

The only Dodger run was unearned. After Buster Mills singled in the second, Jack Rothrock made a wild return throw to the infield and Bill Delancey followed up with another wild heave, letting Mills reach third. He scored on Vincent Sherlock's single.

By winning the Cards maintained a good strategic position for their final pennant drive against the Cubs, a five-game series beginning next Wednesday. Before them the Cubs play only two games while the Cards have five, giving them a chance to make up most of their current deficit.

Manager Frank Frisch, Charley Gelbert and Jim Collins were the big guns of today's attack on Ray Benge and Tom Baker. Gelbert knocked in two runs with a double in the fourth and scored the third on Sam Leslie's error. He drove in another tally in the big fifth.

Frisch scored the final run in the eighth, smacking a double for his third blow of the game and breezing home when Collins followed up his circuit swat with a single. Gelbert also made three hits.

Fan Breezes

By Ernest Savage

Arch Ward, Sports editor of the Chicago Tribune, recalls in his column, "Talking It Over," a football game played between Jacksonville and Virginia high schools back in November, 1911.

According to Ward's story, and it's the first time we ever heard the incident mentioned, Lewis Perrin, playing halfback for Virginia, threw a forward pass to an end, Orville Knight. Virginia was leading at that time 46-0, and the game was in the fourth quarter.

Just as the pass left Perrin's hands, a wind of cyclonic proportions snatched up the ball, and whisked it to no one knows where. The pass is the longest uncompleted pass in the history of the game, for the ball never has been found. The heavy wind that followed this gust, broke up the ball game.

Regardless of what arrangements may exist between major league baseball clubs as to a division of the gate receipts, we'll bet the New York Giants' owners wish their club was working on a commission basis.

After attracting record-breaking crowds to St. Louis, the Giants pulled out about 90,000 customers in Chicago in the first three days of their series with the Cubs. Something ought to be done about that.

Discussions are arising over the number of games remaining for each of the three leaders to play. The Cubs have eight games left, the Cardinals 11, and the New York Giants 15—seven of which are with the Boston Braves.

That finish is going to be hard on the Giant pitching staff, already badly shot as the result of its difficult series with St. Louis. And there was a report going around yesterday that Hal Schumacher will not be able to pitch any more this year.

Bloomington has been declared the Three-I league champions despite the fact that the Springfield Senators won four of the six games played. Gene Wylie, Decatur prexy of the loop, awarded the title to Bloomington when Manager Bob Coleman ordered his men back to Springfield and paid them off, after Wylie ordered a replay of the sixth game from a close of the third inning.

The order was issued when Umpire Pfohl ruled a base-runner out because he shook hands with the Bloomington coach as he rounded third base after belting the ball over the left field fence. The umpire ruled the handshake as assistance, nullified the home run and declared the runner out, starting the argument that will last all through the hot stove season.

Coach S. Robey Burns is just beginning to relate some of his experiences during the summer. One that stands out most in his mind is a talk given a deaf club in Chicago by Frank Demaree, Chicago Cub player, who is a son of deaf parents, and an expert in the sign language.

Another bit of gossip flying around the baseball circles is that Donnie Bush, former National league manager, will make his bow in the American league next year with the Cleveland Indians.

With activities in most of the leagues over, ball players known around these parts are beginning to say "howdy" to home folks again. Jim Winn passed through the other day from the Eau Claire club of the Northern League.

Dave Lawless, who has been with the Dallas club in the Texas league, wound up his season by losing his last start. Dave gave up 16 hits in six innings before he was retired.

Floyd Newkirk has a record of eight games won and five lost, dropping his one start last week by a 5 to 2 score and allowing 12 hits.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BREITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

New York—(AP)—Don't be surprised if Kentucky takes a fall out of Ohio State in their grid opener.... The Wildcats will be pointing for that one and they'll be primed to the gills—for Ohio State it will be just another tune up....the Giant front office is laughing off reports Babe Ruth will be signed as manager if Bill Terry fails to deliver a pennant.

Strange as it may seem, Mike Jacobs is hoping the Baer-Louis fight won't net a million dollars....for the very good reason it wouldn't mean any more raisins for Mike—the set-up calls for a net gate of $800,000 (with plenty of profits)....if he has to expand, it will be at the rate of $3 per seat....no gravy there, boys.

Bill Danforth of Boston and elsewhere is world's No. 1 golf fan—he's in the gallery at all British and United States open and amateur tournaments....he flies his own plane and usually is accompanied by his pal, Francis Ouimet.

Pug Lund says the 1935 Minnesota Gophers will outshine the 1934 crew....and that Tuffy Thompson, Sophomore ball carrier, is just the lad to make them all forget....the Athletics have an ambidextrous battery in George Turbeville and Paul Richards....Gene Sarazen and Babe Didrikson split the purse 70-30 on that barnstorming tour....you guess who got the fat end.

Pompton Lake specials: Joe Louis will postpone his honeymoon so he can root for the Tigers in the world's series....his favorite Tiger is Gerald Walker....Joe doesn't know why—he "just likes him"....immediately after the series, Joe will cease being a Detroiter and move to Chicago where he has leased a swanky apartment.

ANNUAL BURGOO, Sept. 24, Northminister Church.

Kipke Going to Surprise Someone

Prospects Brighter all Over Big Ten as Teams Get Scrimmages

Chicago—(AP)—Coach Harry Kipke already is promising to "surprise somebody" with his 1935 Michigan football team.

Although the dope points to Ohio State and Minnesota as the powerhouse teams of the Big Ten, Kipke promises a better team than the one of 1934 which "surprised" even Kipke by failing to win a single conference engagement.

"In another week," says Kipke, "I expect to see plenty of speed. Blocking has shown great improvement."

Prospects, meanwhile, were even brighter at Ohio State and Minnesota. Coach Bernie Bierman sent his Gophers through a lively scrimmage yesterday and got results. Andy Uram, Sophomore halfback, ran back a kickoff 95 yards to score and then teamed with Levoir to tear the scrub line to pieces. At Columbus, the Buckeyes threw the pigskin like a basketball, tossing four or five laterals on one play, in a short offensive workout.

Leon Dailey, senior left halfback, is about to step into Duane Purvis' punting assignment at Purdue. Dailey's accurate placing of punts was the big feature of the workout yesterday.

Coach Bo McMillin of Indiana was worried about ragged blocking and tackling, but Captain Reed Kelso, 225 pound center, gave him something to cheer about with his kicking. Kelso, kicking from the 30 yard line, booted 25 placements between the uprights without an error Monday and added 21 more before missing.

At Illinois, Coach Bob Zuppke drove his men on with a demand for better knowledge of fundamentals. "Zup" drilled his Illini on fundamentals for three hours yesterday before letting them engage in a signal drill.

Despite the hot weather, which slowed up Chicago's practice for the second straight day, Northwestern held its first scrimmage of the season with Wally Cruice and Don Heap as halfbacks, Don Geyer at quarterback and Hugh Duvall at fullback.

Red Sox Defeat Tigers 4 To 1

Boston, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Roy Johnson and Babe Dahlgren got together in a late batting attack today to break up a pitching duel between a pair of veterans, Lefty Grove and Al Crowder, and give the Red Sox a 4 to 1 victory over the league-leaging Detroit Tigers.

The loss reduced Detroit's lead to 7½ games over the idle New York Yankees but the Tigers ended their final eastern tour needing only two victories to clinch the pennant.

After six scoreless innings the Sox broke the deadlock when Johnson singled, advanced on Rick Ferrell's sacrifice and scored when Dahlgren bounced a double off the left center field wall. Three more runs crossed the plate in the eighth.

Detroit scored in the ninth on Hank Greenberg's triple and Goose Goslin's infield out.

Score:

Detroit	000 000 001-1 8 1
Boston	000 000 13x-4 9 1

Chicago Swine Market Steady

Chicago, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The hog market closed mostly steady today with Wednesday's average, but some animals brought higher prices and packers paid the top of $11.80 freely.

Receipts were only 8,000, including 2,500 direct, but the total was 2,000 less than expected. The curtailed outlet for dressed meats, because of warmer weather, kept prices from advancing. Yesterday's top also was $11.80.

The fed steer market was 25 lower at the close, erasing yesterday's advance. There was a 25-50 downturn on stocker and feeder kinds. The top on choice steers was $13.25.

Sheep were steady and fat lambs gained 25-35 cents. The top on native lambs was $9.50.

NEIGHBORS PLOW 20 ACRES FOR MARKHAM MAN WHO WAS HURT

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jewsbury of the Markham neighborhood always said they have good neighbors, and now they are more certain than ever. While Mr. Jewsbury has been incapacitated because of a fall, a number of friends have carried on his farm work.

William Hitt and George Hardwick sent their tractors and men to the Jewsbury farm where 20 acres were plowed. In addition to this fine act of neighborliness, other friends have assisted since Mr. Jewsbury accident.

Several days ago he had the misfortune to fall from a peach tree, injurying his back severely. He is still unable to be up, but is improving slowly.

Wheat Market Hits New High

By John P. Boughan
Associated Press Market Editor

Chicago, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Excited over reports of imminent likelihood of war, wheat markets today surpassed in some cases any high price record of the last five years.

Eastern demand for shipments of wheat reported as being so urgent all immediate offerings were taken virtually regardless of cost. Speculative demand in Chicago assuming stampede character, rushed the market here almost 4 cents a bushel upward, and despite a world of profit-taking held the greater part of the gain.

Chicago closing quotations of wheat were flurried, 2¼-2⅜ above yesterday's finish, Dec. $1.00¾-⅞, corn ⅜ off to ½ up, Dec. 57¼-58, oats ½-¾ higher, and provisions varying from 12 cents setback to an advance of 22 cents.

Adding to the soaring trend of Chicago wheat prices were unexpected upshoots of Liverpool quotations together with increasingly sensational crop damage reports from Argentina. Every delivery of wheat in Chicago rose almost instanter to above $1.00 a bushel, and May contracts went to $1.02¾, the topmost peak attained here since last December. Comment was widespread that setbacks of wheat priced yesterday had served only to stimulate new speculative buying today.

Stock Prices Take Nosedive

By Frank MacMillen
Associated Press Financial Writer

New York, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Share prices skidded sharply lower in the stock market today. Many active leaders declined 1 to 2 points while a few lost 4 to 6.

While some observers leaned rather heavily toward the European situation as explaining the market course, others pointed to the generally small selling of stocks for foreign account and the rather reactionary tone of the so-called "war babies" as indicating that internal market factors had been the more influential.

As guaged by the Associated Press average of 60 stocks the Share Market decline was 1.2 points at 49.5. The 30 Industrials led the recession with a dip of 1.6 points, while the 15 Rails showed relatively the best resistance with a loss of .5 of a point.

Stock exchange turnover tended to accelerate as the market declined, especially around mid-day when the stock tape was several minutes behind transactions on the trading floor. The day's business aggregated 1,928,160 shares.

The BLUE DOOR

by Rachel Mack © 1935 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

RUTH WOODSON, pretty, high-spirited girl of 19, in search of work, seeks refuge from a storm in an old stone house with a blue door in the little town of Worthville. The queer old caretaker, BERTHA GIBBS, also known as PENNY, thinks Ruth is ELAINE CHALMERS, whose grandfather built the house.

Ruth, needing shelter and having fallen in love with the young man next door, JOHN McNEILL, decides to stay on a while, posing as Elaine. Elaine, meanwhile, at Graycastle College, vows in a sorority meeting to win the love of her childhood hero, John McNeill. She plans to go to Worthville.

A man known as JOHN SMITH escapes from an asylum, buys a used-car and starts for Worthville.

John McNeill has fallen in love with Ruth and worries about her being alone with Bertha Gibbs in the old house. Ruth is not disconcerted by the queer actions of old Bertha or by the strange noises she hears in the house at night.

Elaine goes to New York and her mother, GWEN DEAL, tells her that her uncle, DUNCAN HUNTER, has escaped from an insane asylum and is thought to be in New York. This news is kept from HIGATE DEAL, Gwen's husband, since he hates Duncan and was the one who caused him to be confined. Elaine is in love with a senior at Annapolis, DENNIS DAVIS, but encourages the attentions of TEDDY VAN HARRINGTON.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XX

MRS. McNEILL, arriving home a few days earlier than she had expected, took a taxi from the depot to her home on Garfield avenue.

When she reached home she was given a welcome by Susie, the colored cook who had served her for almost 30 years.

Mrs. McNeill exclaimed, "How nice everything looks, Susie! I don't believe I've been missed at all. How's Mr. John?"

"If it's his appetite you're askin' about," answered Susie, "it ain't never been better. But he's doin' a powerful lot of galavantin'. He ain't home any longer than it takes to eat his meals and spruce up."

Mrs. McNeill looked pleased. She said, "I always thought John would be socially inclined if he once got started. Where has he been going, Susie?"

"Now you're askin' me sumthin'!" replied Susie. She rolled her eyes importantly, enjoying the remarkableness of the news she was about to impart. "He's been goin' ovah to the old Hunter house!"

Mrs. McNeill stared in amazement, her well-bred mouth actually gaping. "What do you mean by that, Susie? What on earth does he do there?"

"He hangs aroun' a young lady," Susie informed her.

"Who is the girl?" Mrs. McNeill asked. "You don't mean the Chalmers child, do you, Susie?"

"Yes'm," said Susie, nodding. "Dat's who 'tis, all right. He call her 'Elaine' when he yell at her one mornin' from the yard. Ebe and me recollects her from a chile, but we ain't had a good look at her since she's been heah. Seem like she done come all by herself to take a rest. Mr. John tole me not to talk about it to anybody, an' I ain't."

* * *

MRS. McNEILL was calculating. "Elaine must be about 20 years old now. Do you mean the girl hasn't seen anybody but John, Susie?"

"Seems like she ain't," replied Susie. "Maybe she's done caught the solitary bug from crazy Bertha Gibbs."

Mrs. McNeill laughed, then grew sober. "She's got no business being alone in that house with Bertha. I've an idea she came without her mother's consent. I must look into it, Susie."

John arrived just in time for dinner; almost before the soup was finished his mother was asking him questions about Elaine. His reticence surprised her. Could Susie be right about his being "daffy" over the girl? She said, "John, I must see her! She's got no business in the world being in that house. Whatever induced her to come? Just a whim?"

"It seems so," answered John. "She needed a rest."

Mrs. McNeill said, "I'm afraid I wouldn't recognize her now. I recall her as a handsome, imperious child. How is Bertha reacting to it all, John?"

"More reasonably than you'd expect," John replied. "But I feel darn'd uneasy about it, just the same. I've just been thinking, Mother, couldn't we ask her over here to finish out her visit?"

"Of course we could son," she told him. "I've been planning the same thing myself. Go over after dinner and bring her to me. I think I can convince her that she ought to come to us."

Ruth was not prepared for John's request that she run over to see his mother with him. It threw her into a panic. She exclaimed, "Why, John! I didn't know your mother was at home."

"She came back today," John told her.

He did not let her wait to "primp," as he called it, but seized her hand and drew her, running, after him across the lawns.

* * *

MRS. McNEILL met them in the hall and kissed Ruth matter-of-factly as she greeted her. She said, "You're a dear child to come. John says you haven't been seeing people, but I felt you wouldn't mind seeing me." She was leading Ruth into the big living room and seating her on a divan as she talked. The girl's panic was vanishing. She had been accepted as Elaine, even in the clear lamplight. Perhaps there was nothing to fear, after all. She looked shyly at John and his beaming smile reassured her.

He said, "Mother's got a plan. A swell one—"

"What is it?" Ruth asked, her voice a little fluttery.

"It's this," said Mrs. McNeill. "You're to go back and pack your clothes and come to us at once. You're not to stay another night in that desolate old barn. It's not practical. It's not even safe."

Ruth answered, surprised and touched, "Oh, but I couldn't do that. I couldn't."

Mrs. McNeill asked pointedly, "Does your mother know you are here, Elaine?"

"No," answered Ruth, flushing hotly.

"And do you think she'd approve of your being here alone?" continued Mrs. McNeill firmly.

"No. I suppose she wouldn't."

"Well then!" said Mrs. McNeill, as if that settled it. "Do you want John to tell old Bertha Gibbs you're coming, or would you rather do it yourself?"

Ruth replied, lifting her chin stubbornly, "If it's Bertha you're thinking about, Mrs. McNeill, she's as harmless as a child. John's warned me about her several times" (with a quick smile at him) "but I've always contended she's all right. She's just eccentric and childish."

Mrs. McNeill said reasonably, "We are in a position to know more about Bertha Gibbs than you do, Elaine. She's quite definitely off. Not violent, I grant you, but off. She's nursed grudges against certain people for years. Your stepfather among them. Your mother, too, possibly. No doubt you know why. She worshiped your Uncle Duncan."

"Yes," murmured Ruth, though what Mrs. McNeill had just said made no sense to her. She was thinking, "I can't come over here and stay. I won't. There's a limit to my outrageous nerve." With all her strength she would resist them. She allowed her determination to show in her face as she looked at Mrs. McNeill. She said, exactly as the imperious Elaine Chalmers would have said it, "You're kind to ask me to come, but I'm quite all right where I am. It's an adventure I wouldn't miss."

* * *

MRS. McNEILL said, with a little gesture of defeat but not resentment, "Then stay on for a while, dear, and talk to me. I remember you as a little girl, and yet I don't remember you either. At least you've not turned out as I thought you would."

Ruth supplied with a smile, "I'm not as large as I promised to be, and my hair's darker. My mother's hair turned dark, too, though not so much—" She was quoting Penny almost word for word.

Mrs. McNeill nodded. "It's good to see one of the Hunters back again. There've been Hunters here for generations. Worthville misses them now. Is your mother well?"

"Yes, thank you," Ruth replied.

Mrs. McNeill was thinking, "She's surprisingly simple and unaffected. And so pretty! No wonder John's infatuated. I can see he is. He doesn't take his eyes off her . . . he really mustn't fall in love with her. She wouldn't have him, or, if she did, it wouldn't work. Wealth's a barrier to the normal life. It never brings happiness—"

Yet, through and around these thoughts, they wove a web of polite conversation there in the gracious big parlor, autumn flowers nodding from sedate old vases and polished floors reflecting the lamplight.

All the while Ruth was thinking, "Elaine and John should marry, after all. It wouldn't matter about all her money. John's background is as good as hers . . . it would join the two houses together again. I believe it's intended. When she comes, all that will begin to happen—"

And then she thought of a half-bedroom somewhere, with a gas plate in it for cooking. If she were lucky, she would be living in such a place while John and Elaine were becoming acquainted.

Horner Definitely Casts Hat in Ring For 1936 Battles

Defends Sales Tax at Meet of Democratic War Vets in Springfield

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—Governor Horner's "I will," spoken before a crowd of Democratic war veterans, today had ended the last doubt about his intention to get a second term.

Speaking at the round-up of the Illinois Veterans League at the fair grounds late yesterday, the governor stated positively that he plans to seek renomination and to lead the Democratic state ticket in 1936.

Some political observers had contended that a similar announcement a month ago was not completely definite.

"It is not President Roosevelt whom the constitution has to fear," Mr. Horner said. "It is rather the opposition party which during the many years in which it was in power forgot the entire preamble."

The governor also spoke at length in defense of the sales tax, holding that its revenues have kept the state government in a sound financial condition.

Senator Bennett Clark, of Missouri, the other major speaker, also praised the Roosevelt administration, saying:

"It is neither necessary nor desirable to agree with every act of this administration in order to revere the character and intellect and to glory in the sum total of his magnificent achievements since he took office."

The veterans' gathering was one of the first pre-primary Democratic rallies.

"So long as the present administration stays in power, the constitution is safe against any Republican assault," said Senator William H. Dieterich of Beardstown.

Congressman Scott W. Lucas of Havana predicted the bonus would be paid early next year.

Talmadge Continues Attacks on F. D. R.

Des Moines, Ia.—(AP)—Governor Eugene Talmadge charged today the Roosevelt administration has reversed Democratic principles of government and "we have gone to Russia to copy an entirely different government from that of our forefathers."

The Georgia executive, critic of New Deal policies, came into the agricultural mid-west to address the Iowa Farmers Union, on a swing into several states in pursuit of his goal to prevent the renomination of President Roosevelt by the 1936 Democratic National convention.

Attacking the administration at Washington for the destruction of feedstuffs and foodstuffs under the AAA program, Talmadge charged that America " faced a famine" on January 1 and it was necessary to import products to replace those destroyed.

Skilled Workmen Finding Jobs In Private Home Building

Washington—(AP)—Government statisticians said today that America's long idle carpenters, bricklayers and other skilled workers are beginning to find jobs in the construction of private homes.

Increased private construction has drawn the attention of economists who have been watching anxiously for improvement of the long-dragging heavy goods industries. They also found other signs of improvement in this vital field, along with some discouraging features.

Isador Lubin, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, summarized the situation by saying conditions in the building industry were "very definitely on the rise." He added that "employment in the heavy goods industries generally is improving, altho it has a great distance to go to reach the level of non-durable goods."

An inter-office memorandum prepared by the statistics division of the federal housing administration said "the available information indicates that at last the building industry is beginning to absorb its unemployed."

It warned, however, that there was still a "long way to go" because even in 1930, when employment was higher than in any other recent year, it was only 88 per cent of normal.

A survey of available government figures showed that other indices of activity in the heavy industries tended generally upward, but were spotty. Employment in July showed an index of 69.3 per cent of the 1923-25 average, as compared with 67.4 a year ago, and payrolls were 55.5 as compared with 49.9.

Some industries were declared back to "normal" during the summer, with agricultural implement makers and automobile manufacturers employing more than during the 1923-25 period, but lumber mills were averaging less than half the workers, and railroad repair shops were at almost as low a level.

Kapp States Tax System Needs An Over-Hauling

Says Public Revenue Program Sadly Overworn And In Need Of Revision

Quincy, Ill.—(AP)—Mayor John W. Kapp, Jr., of Springfield, president of the Illinois Municipal League, today said the state's public revenue system is "sadly outworn and in need of overhauling to meet present day conditions."

In a speech prepared for delivery at the opening session of the league's twenty-second annual convention here, Kapp said the state government by transference from the property tax to the sales tax, "has taken care of its tax situation only too well, but has left the needs of the local governments unattended to."

The revenue of municipal governments who are for the most part dependent on the general property tax has been reduced in many cases as high as forty per cent."

Of home rule for municipalities, the keynote of the convention, Kapp said: "Government powers and authority have been transferred from the cities to distant, centralized, officious, arbitrary and regulation bound departments, boards and commissions.

"To have the powers of his municipal government, whose officials are close at home, transferred to centralized authorities remote from his control is one of the worst tragedies which can occur to the individual. Remote governments make for irresponsible and even corrupt governmental practices.

Municipal liberty is a precious principle which must be preserved if we are to avoid dictatorship and tyranny which have no place in American life."

Kapp said he foresaw the day when the league will act as an "advisory body to the governor and general assembly on all questions relating to municipal affairs."

"To achieve this end, we must, as we have done in the past, maintain our standing in a non-partisan manner. Of necessity we have to deal with politics and matters of public policy, but if in dealing with them, we keep party political arguments out of our deliberations then our influence will be maintained and strengthened."

The state public utility tax act as it affects municipally owned utilities was called "absurd" and "meaningless" by Thomas A. Matthews, of Chicago, a member of the league's legal division, in an address prepared for delivery at the convention this morning. Among the major business for the league is a decision whether a suit shall be instituted against the tax.

The income from water and light systems, he said, was as much a part of municipal revenue as the income from general taxation and asserted the "next step would be for the state to demand a percentage of all the municipal revenue, from every source, under the guise of an income tax against municipalities.

Urging the league members to institute a fight on the act, he said the legislature in passing the measure had ignored a hitherto well recognized distinction between a privately owned and government owned utility.

3 Killed In Debate On Estate

Farmer Believed to Have Shot Three Persons and Self in Dispute Over Sharing Money Left by Woman

CALLS POLICE STATION

Newark, N. J. — (AP) — The police concluded today that Charles Russell Geary, 42, a Tobyhanna, Pa., farmer, killed his brother and two uncles and ended his own life in a fight over division of a $30,000 estate.

The bodies of the four were found in the apartment of Orlando Le Van, 60, an employe of the Pennsylvania Railroad, one of the victims of the shooting.

The others who died were Orlondo's brother, Benjamin, retired foreman in the Newark department of Public Works and John S. Geary, 43, who had lived with the Le Vans since boyhood.

Orlondo's wife, Catherine, died a month ago on a visit to Easton, Pa. She and the Geary brothers' mother were sisters. Orlando's wife held with him joint accounts in three Newark savings banks and stock in a building and loan association, totalling in all about $30,000.

The police believe Charles Geary, who came to Newark early last night, argued with Orlando over sharing the money.

Early today a man telephoned police headquarters. Patrolman Patrick McNamara answered.

"Send police in a hurry to 938 South 20th street."

"What's the matter?" asked the startled McNamara.

"There are three murders and a suicide,' replied the man on the phone.

"What do you mean?" asked the policeman.

"I just killed three people."

The caller then hung up.

Two minutes later radio police broke down the door of the second floor apartment and found the bodies of four men, three of them sprawled in the kitchen and the fourth lying on a divan in the sun parlor. The lights were out, the doors were locked.

The body of John S. Geary, 42, brother of Charles, was lying near a window. A few feet away lay Orlando Le Van, 60. Near a door leading to the living room was Orlando's brother, Benjamin, 55.

British Labor Body Talks League Move

Two Veteran Leaders Offer to Step Out of Fight

London— (AP) —The question of whether the League of Nations should invoke military measures to prevent war in Africa resulted today in a crisis in the affairs of Great Britain's Labor party.

Chieftains of the government's strongest opposition gathered in London for what was described officially as an 'emergency meeting."

The immediate question to be discussed by the labor executives was whether the two men who have led their parliamentary forces for four years—George Lansbury in the house of commons and Lord Ponsonby in the house of lords—must step down to make way for new blood.

Both Lansburg and Lord Ponsonby are avowed pacifists of long standing, who maintain a preference for old-fashioned political methods. Lord Ponsonby announced his resignation as labor leader in the house of lords yesterday and Lansbury offered to quit his post in commons.

PEACE NEEDED McCLELLAND TELLS GROUP

MacMurray President Says War Is Threat Of World Disaster

"Peace is no longer a mere blessing, it is a necessity. War is not something about to happen in Ethiopia; it is a threat of world disaster. You have to do what you can to stop it, I have to do what I can." Making his ideas on the social value of higher education his topic, President C. P. McClelland delivered a sermon yesterday afternoon to the student body of MacMurray College and a number of friends of the college who had gathered in Music Hall for the first chapel service of the year.

The service was the high point of a busy day devoted to registration of upperclassmen and the completion of the three day orientation program for freshmen. The freshmen heard talks by Dean Hawkins and the presidents of various student organizations. A program of games was held on the athletic field in the late afternoon, and in the evening the incoming class and faculty were guests of the management of the Fox-Illinois theater. Regular classes will start this morning at eight o'clock. An athletic association picnic for the whole college, to be held at Nichols park Saturday noon will complete the events connected with the opening of college.

The program of "First Chapel" began with an organ selection, "Dawn," by Jenkins, played by Prof. Henry Ward Pearson. It also included a solo by Mr. George Hardesty, the new violinist of the Conservatory faculty, accompanied by Hugh Beggs.

Dr. McClelland began his sermon with the observation that he had recently read that "mirrors bring damnation; windows bring salvation." Following up this theme he recalled two places of many windows which he has visited; the palace of the Czars near Leningrad, an dthe great chateau of Versailles, in whose "hall of mirrors" the treaty between the allies and Germany was signed. He pointed out that by standing in a corner of this famous room a man can see seven relections of his own image, "which is several too many." Comparing this symbol of the inward mind, of egotism, with the almost boundless view to be had from a window on a mountainside, he affirmed that Jesus has represented the "outward view," had been interested in the great masses of men and had had compassion for them.

"Jesus saw them groping for Truth; groping, but hindered by the formalism of their teachers, the Pharisees, hindered by ill health, hindered by social injustice. He understood their needs and was prepared to help them."

Issues at Stake

"At this time, this first day of college, I want to appeal to you," said the speaker. "You have been absorbed in your personal problems. You have been absorbed with the problem of getting to college, with the great and practical problems of how to prepare to earn a living. This practical concern is of great importance; but there is something even more important. At this time the masses of humanity are especially beset by grave perils, and great issues are at stake. It is time for an outward look.

"The world is in need of people equipped to help it with its difficulties. Just after we entered the World War Secretary Baker called in General Bliss and asked him how much longer the war would go on. Bliss answered that, reasoning by analogy, the war would go on for forty years. He remarked that there might be a truce of a few years for the combatants to lick their wounds, but that the struggle would go on until one side or the other was eliminated as a fighting force. Ever since 1918 many have feared that this view of General Bliss might be verified. During the past summer and at this moment that prophecy is closer to being fulfilled than ever before.

"Why do I bring this up now? I do so because it is likely that the masses of men, which means you and yours, will be involved. New inventions have made the world into one society, but intellectual, moral and emotional elements have not kept pace with them. We are in a race with catastrophe, and if catastrophe wins it will matter very little whether you are educated or not; whether colleges continue to exist or not."

Mentioning the alarm he felt because of the recent resurgence of nationalism in the world, and the greedy behavior of certain nations, Dr. McClelland challenged his hearers to exert themselves, and after briefly touching upon the presence of domestic problems, remarked that all the problems of the world, both foreign and domestic, would depend for their solution largely upon the quality of the youngsters now in college.

"What the world needs," he declared, "is educated young people—young people who have learned to look outward, who have learned what has happened in the past, who have acquired the scientific spirit, and who have hearts capable of being moved by compassion. That is the spirit I hope you will get here; that is what I hope your education will mean to you."

In closing, the speaker mentioned something of the lives and accomplishments of three great women, two of them honorary alumnae of MacMurray College, and one a graduate in course; Jane Addams, Anna W. Ickes, and Susan Rebhan, whose death recently has so shocked college circles. These women, he told, were the patterns for his hearers to cut their ambitions upon.

Willard O'Malley, statistician at the Jacksonvilel State hospital, gave the members of the A. B. All of the sheets and pillow cases used in the hospital are made by patients, he cited as an instance, and patients care for the farms, and perform other duties.

The cost of feeding both patients and employes was estimated at between five and six cents a meal, the cost including the worth of produce raised on the farms. The state is now farming between 800 and 900 acres of land.

I. C. STUDENTS WELCOMED BY DR. JAQUITH

College Spirit Is Discussed By President At First Assembly

The bell in the Sturtevant Tower on the Illinois College campus called the first assembly of the student body Thursday morning at 9 o'clock when President H. C. Jaquith greeted the new and old students.

Before introducing the guest speaker of the morning President Jaquith made several announcements of interest to the students. Rev. Glenn J. Schillerstrom of the State Street Presbyterian church, as a representative of the Ministerial Association, welcomed the students to the activities of the churches of the city.

"The churches of Jacksonville look forward each fall," he said, "to the coming of the students. Next Thursday night, Sept. 26, a reception for the college students will be held in each of the several churches of the city at which time we look forward to welcoming the students."

President Jaquith then asked the students to give a moment's pause in memory of Herbert Smith and Dale Godbey, members of the student body, who met a tragic death in an auto accident this last month.

"Enthusiasm about what we are doing is an indefinable something called 'College Spirit,'" was the opening theme of President Jaquith's address. "It makes itself apparent on the campus in various forms, in the enthusiasm among the students as well as in incoming freshman class.

"College life has two sides, responsibilities and privileges. The first responsiblity is to students in regard to certain ideals the individual may have. Formerly some one has been watching what you did. Now you are on your own.

"There is the responsibility to other students, an interest among the students as a whole. Rules are not a restriction but are for the good of all. You have a responsibility to the faculty and the faculty has a responsibility to you. You will not be watched to see if you study as you should, or if you study at certain hours. Neither is the minimum required but the maximum.

"You have the responsibilty of good manners. There are certain recognized codes of action, manners, to be displayed at certain occasions, that college people are expected to express in their daily actions. There is never an excuse for not acting like ladies and gentlemen. Where you go you represent Illinois College and good manners must be maintained.

"In this campus life and in this city there are many privileges also. There are opportunities to use your leadership and your personality in all manner of activities. There are opportunities to develop your special talents—physical and mental.

"The students of Illinois College who are employed in this city should be very grateful to those helpful citizens for making those opportunities possible. Employment is hard to secure and those employed here should recognize it as a privilege.

"There are many here who are seriously thinking of the question of employment. One month after graduation this year 85 per cent of the graduates were placed. Also seven members of the class received graduate scholarships."

After the assembly the regular morning schedule of classes was carried out. Tonight various societies will meet for the first time to make arrangements for the coming year's activities. Tomorrow night will be open meeting for some of the societies and the week's activities will close with the first college "mixer" Saturday night.
